DETAILED ACTION

1. This Action is in response to Application Number 10/634,062 received on 8/4/2003.
2. Claims 1-40 are presented for examination.

Priority

Applicant's claim for the benefit of a prior-filed application under 35 U.S.C. 119(e) or under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121, or 365(c) is acknowledged. Applicant has not complied with one or more conditions for receiving the benefit of an earlier filing date under 35 U.S.C. 119 or 120 as follows:

The later-filed application must be an application for a patent for an invention which is also disclosed in the prior application (the parent or original nonprovisional application or provisional application). The disclosure of the invention in the parent application and in the later-filed application must be sufficient to comply with the requirements of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112. See Transco Products, Inc. v. Performance Contracting, Inc., 38 F.3d 551, 32 USPQ2d 1077 (Fed. Cir. 1994).

The disclosure of the prior-filed application, Application No. 10/005,536 (or any of the other prior applications for which benefit is claimed under 35 U.S.C. 119 or 120) fails to provide adequate support or enablement in the manner provided by the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112 for one or more claims of this application.

Applicant's prior applications do not provide adequate disclosure for the subject matter pertaining to the "hybrid storage area" or the "re-assembly storage area" as claimed (i.e. all limitations regarding these storage areas as well as the claimed functionality).

MPEP 201.07 recites, "The disclosure presented in the continuation must be the same as that of the original application." It appears that the disclosure for this specification contains subject matter not contained in the prior applications.

Accordingly, claims 1-40 are not entitled to the benefit of the prior applications.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

3. Claims 1-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Muller et al. (US 6480489).

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 17, 34, and 38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Thompson (US 5917828).

4. Regarding claim 17, Thompson disclosed a method of network communication, the method comprising: providing a computer having a processor and a memory, the memory including first, second and third storage areas that are accessible by a communication interface (Fig. 11, memories 1108, 1122, and 1140);

receiving, by the communication interface, a first packet, and storing the first packet in the first storage area (Thompson, Fig. 11, All packets received are first stored in cell FIFO 1108);

receiving, by the communication interface, a second packet, storing a header of the second packet in the first storage area (Thompson, Fig. 11, All packets received are stored in cell FIFO 1108), and storing data of the second packet in the second storage area (Thompson, col. 8, lines 27-31, Thompson disclosed data from the received packets being stored in local memory buffer 1122 in certain conditions); and receiving, by the communication interface, a third packet, and storing data of the third packet in the third storage area, the third storage area containing data from a plurality of packets and corresponding to an application running on the computer, the third storage area containing no headers (Thompson, col. 8, lines 40-45, Thompson disclosed the contents of the local memory buffer, which include the payloads of received packets, to be stored in main memory buffer 1140).

5. Regarding claim 34, Thompson disclosed the limitations as described in claim 17, including associating the third storage area with a transmission control protocol (TCP) connection (Thompson, col. 7, lines 46-60).

6. Regarding claim 38, Thompson disclosed the limitations as described in claim 17, including sending a command from the computer to the communication interface, the command including an address of the third storage area (Thompson, col. 8, lines 40-50).

Conclusion

Examiner's Note: Examiner has cited particular columns and line numbers in the references applied to the claims above for the convenience of the applicant.
